Time to start thinking about Summer 2020. Below is a link to the 2020 Peg Dates. Next year is not only a leap year, but a "drop back year," which means that Labor Day is the latest it can be (Monday Sept 7, 2020). This means an extra week of summer. It also means that all regattas drop back a week. The Peg Dates are set off of the Center of the Season - Hyannis Regatta, which starts the last Friday in July (7/31/20) and Buzzards Bay Regatta, which starts the first Friday in August (8/7/202). The calendar goes forward and backwards from there.

Here is the link to the 2020 Peg Dates.

Before the season really ends, if regatta chairs and/or club managers can confirm their dates, it will help everyone with planning going forward. Remember, SM Sailing is a collection of 44 clubs operating somewhat autonomously. The schedule is delicately balanced to work for all and protect traditional regatta dates for the benefit of all. If your club wants to make changes in what they have traditionalist done, please consult with me for options before plowing ahead.
